Danville Selects Its 19 Delegates

At a mass meeting of Danville Democrats attended by 100 persons in the Municipal hall last night over which former City Chairman John W. Carter presided the voters separated into ward groups and each group chose its quota of three delegates.
The resolution proposing this plan of selection provided that Captain Harry Wooding, a veteran mayor of the city, be made a delegate-at-large, thus completing the city's quota of representation in the great convention of Virginia Democrats at Norfolk on June 11th.

The delegation to Norfolk as a result of the action of the several ward group-meetings is as follows, with Mayor Wooding chosen by the mass convention itself.

- Delegates-at-Large—Harry Wooding, Sr.
1st Ward—J. T. Luther, L. R. Fair, A. J. Davis.
2nd Ward—Jno. W. Carter Jr., Harry Wooding, Jr., W. P. Tudor.
3rd Ward—Jno. P. Swanson, D. W. Poe, Dr. H. A. Wiseman.
4th Ward—F. W. Townes, E. Walton Brown, Geo. Geoghegan, Jr.
5th Ward—S. J. Campbell, R. K. Mitchell, S. W. Seacore.
6th Ward—B. H. Suster, Z. F. Perkins, T. E. Davis.

A test of strength between the rival groups composing the mass convention was immediately forced by a resolution offered by Mr. Fair of the First Ward providing for separation of the mass into ward groups, the nomination by each ward of three delegates to the State Democratic convention and the honorary designation of Mayor Wooding as the 19th delegate, thereby being the number to which Danville is entitled under the basis of representation.

Ex-Judge E. W. Brown immediately offered a substitute proposing the creation of a committee of three to recommend to the meeting the number of delegates to which Danville is entitled. The two resolutions incidentally provided a test as to the matter of ward representation or the selection of councilmen and city representation by the community at large. After brief debate, the test vote as announced by Chairman Carter on the substitute, which took precedence in the voting, was Ayes 63, nays 58 whereupon the Brown substitute was declared lost.

Naturally then, the vote recurring on the original motion to separate into ward groups in which each ward would choose its quota, that plan was adopted. The chairman designated for the convenience of those participating places at which each ward's representation would assemble. The results of the selection are summarized above.

In the Fourth ward, it was remarked by several that City Chairman M. B. Harris (whose inability to be present had developed on Mr. Carter the duty of presiding) was completely overlooked in the matter of conferring the honor of being made a delegate. He then that such an omission in the Fourth ward group Mr. Harris was not among the

BACKYARD PLAYGROUNDS

By W. C. BATCHELOR

PLAY BASKETBALL AT HOME

This is the ninth of a series of 10 articles on the construction and use of playground equipment adapted to the back yard.
The construction of a basketball court will be found of great value in keeping a boy or girl of 12 to 15 years at home.
An area at least 25 by 50 feet is essential for a boys' and girls' court, but where this amount of space is not available either in the back yard or an adjoining vacant lot, a single goal may be erected.
One goal allows all the possibilities of practice, and a game may even be played with both teams "shooting" for the same basket.
The goal consists of an iron ring 18 inches in diameter, supported by brackets, so that the inner edge is 6 inches from the back-board, which may be an flat surface. A regulation goal may be purchased from any sporting goods dealer for three dollars or more.
If no flat surface is available, a back-board, 4 feet high and 6 feet wide, may be attached to a post or tree.
Material for back-board:
Four pieces, 2 inches by 4 inches by 4 feet.
Sixteen pieces of pine flooring, 1 inch by 4 inches by 6 feet.
Two pounds No. 8 casing nails (Cost, approximately, $2.70).
Goal post: 1 piece, 4 inches by 6 inches by 16 feet.
(Additional cost, $1.75.)
The lower edge of the back-board should be 9 feet from the ground and the edge of goal or basket, 10 feet from the ground. A space within a radius of at least 15 feet from the goal should be free from obstructions. A basketball may be bought for $4.00 to $15.00.
(The last article of this series, telling how you may play golf at home, will appear tomorrow.)

The natives of Darfur (west of the Sudan) store water in hollow trees against drought.
In 1818 one Bowdler published an expurgated edition of Shakespeare; hence arose the verb to bowdlerize.

Mr. Brown appealed from the decision of the chair and a brief debate ensued, ostensibly on the question of sustaining the chair's ruling, but which threatened to wander far afield. After a few talks, pro and contra, the meeting by a decisive vote sustained the ruling of the chair.
Thereupon a motion to adjourn was offered, put and carried and the crowd, if it can be properly so designated, dispersed to their homes.

In New York

NEW YORK, May 28.—Born of the same flesh, brothers are not always alike. Recently one took the stand in court giving damaging testimony against his brother on trial for murder.
Now comes the Rev. Dr. Kenneth S. Guthrie, brother of the Rev. Dr. William Norman Guthrie, rector of St. Marks-in-the-Bowwerie, where barefoot dancink did much to precipitate recent warfare between Fundamentalists and Modernists.
Dr. Kenneth S. Guthrie, himself a rector in the metropolitan district, declares his brother should not allow such things to continue in his church.
"Although I favor religious pageants and object-lesson plays, I do not approve of dancing in the house of God. I am in favor of religious pageants as a means of instruction and entertainment, but there is no need for dancing at church services," he says. "There is nothing in bare legs, bare knees and bare hips except notoriety. I think my brother ought not to defy Bishop Manning by permitting such dances."
Manhattan's subways are replete with signs. Those with arrows pointing directions to confused travelers on subways in the Times Square area, have been recently supplemented by fresher ones sparkling in green and white paint, for convenience of passengers near Union Square. Underground signs in New York are as important as signs along rural roads are to autists.
To sophomores of Barnard College its dean recently declared that marriage wasn't enough for the modern girl; she should also have a career. "Every girl should have some definite vocation besides matrimony," she said.
"It would be a fine thing if American women could build up a tradition of political service as we see it in England. Women are happier if they have careers."
Human money changers are now obsolete. For some certain surface are have made change through a mechanical device within the car itself, operated by the motorman who is paid when passengers alight.
Now comes another mechanical step. It is the automatic and instantaneous change maker, designed for hub-way use which promises to further lessen delay of passengers at many subway stations.
The machine throws out change for dimes, quarters and fiftycent pieces with greater rapidity than the human money changers, always returning the exact amount deposited therein, and detecting bad coins and slugs. After making change, the machine shifts back into position ready to serve the next passenger.

PROBE OF BOY'S DEATH ASSUMES A NEW ANGLE

Crime Laid to Dope Addicts In View of New Evidence.

(By The Associated Press.)
CHICAGO, May 23.—Investigation of the death of Frank J. Banks, 15-year-old son of a Chicago millionaire, whose body was found in a railroad culvert last Thursday just before a $10,000 ransom demand was delivered to his parents, assumed a new angle today when police began rounding up drug addicts for questioning.
Evidence that narcotic users kidnaped the boy at the behest of a well informed principal has been the basis of several days of investigation.
"The killing was an accident," states Attorney Crowe said "and anything followed was undertaken to cover the accident. Drugs will be found at the bottom of it all."
An account of what he believes was the midnight disposal of the boy's body, given to the police yesterday by John H. Shackelford, Gary, Ind., railroad switchman, caused police to search for a green sedan, Shackelford said he saw the green car last Wednesday night near where the body was found. One of three men in it, carried a bundle which he thought may have been the boy, into the car and returned without it. A woman drove the car he said.
Shackelford was unable to identify two instructors of a private school attended by the boy who had been held since the slaying. Hearings on petitions of habeas corpus for their release were continued yesterday to today, although their attorneys maintained both have given authorities all the information they possess.

Methodists Fail to Reach Decision On Limit Question

(By The Associated Press.)

The body's failure to make a decision was criticized as "unbecoming its dignity" by Henry Wade Rogers, New York city, judge of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals and chairman of the judiciary committee which rendered the reports.

ILLICIT LOVE AFFAIR ENDS IN HOMICIDE

(By Chicago Tribune Service)
NEW YORK, May 27.—An illicit love affair between Samuel Brown, 30, married and the father of five children, ranging from one to ten years old, and a pretty 22 years old girl of refined appearance who would tell the police little about herself and insisted her name is Ida Brown, ended today in his death from a bullet wound and her arrest on a homicide charge.
Three weeks ago the pair registered at the Broadway Central Hotel, once a luxurious hostelry and the scene, in 1872, of the sensational slaying of Col. Jim Fiske, "Prince of the Erie Railroad," by E. S. Stokes over the love of Josephine Mansfield.
The couple had baggage, registered from Chester, Pa., and were thought by hotel employees to be a honeymoon couple. Brown, they said, spent most of his nights there.
Two shots were heard early this morning and Brown was found on the floor of the couple's room in a dying condition. The girl sat on the bed, calmly smoking a cigarette.
Brown, before he died in St. Vincent's hospital a few hours later, said the girl shot him. The police say she first said she shot herself, and later said: "It did not. It was an accident. For God's sake fix him up." Mrs. Brown, living with her children in a modest Madison avenue home, was dry-eyed when she learned of her husband's death.
"He got what he deserved," she said.
Brown, she added, was night manager of a garage and had told her extra work prevented his coming home nights lately. She said he told her last night was to be his last night.
The police theory is that Brown told the girl they must part and that the shooting followed.

BELIEVED TO HAVE BROKEN INTO AN INDIAN CEMETERY

(By The Associated Press.)
NORFOLK, Va., May 27.—Passing a water main excavation in a residential section here today, Maude Hitler, a negro, stumbled over a human skull that had been cast up by the excavators. It was black.
A police officer poking about the hole in the ground, brought to light several ribs and other bones. All of them, like the skull, were black.
A strange angle of the case, according to the police, was that the bones were found directly above water pipes that had been in the ground for years. In spite of this circumstance, the police are entertained that due to the peculiar coloration, that the street in which the bones were found passes over what once was an Indian burial ground.

Supreme Court Grants Writ In Halifax Case

Full details of the case between the Mottley Warehouse Company of Halifax county and the Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association—a case involving the false trucking of a pile of leaf tobacco—will be heard by the Virginia State Supreme court. A writ of error was awarded yesterday to R. R. and W. A. Mottley, petitioners.
The case involves no great sum of money, merely a $30 fine, but the warehouse company objects to the principle involved. The Mottleys were fined in this circuit court of Halifax at South Boston for putting on a pile of tobacco on the auction floor a ticket containing a name other than that of the owner of the tobacco.
They were fined under a law allegedly passed at the behest of the "co-ops." The law requires that whenever a pile of tobacco is up for sale it must be ticketed with the name of the owner; and the record of where it was grown, who brought it to town and so on must be filed with the warehouseman.
The Mottleys admit that they owned the tobacco in question and that they placed the name "George Cox" on it. However, they contend that the law does not apply to licensed tobacco dealers, which they say they are; and further contend that the law itself is not constitutional.

Memorial Services Held at Virgilina; Other News Items

(Special to The Bee)
VIRGINIA, Va., May 23.—Memorial services were held at Union Cemetery Sunday afternoon. Rev. C. E. Newman, pastor of the Christian church was the principal speaker, and a large number of people gathered to place flowers on the graves of their loved ones and friends. After the memorial services, the Woodmen of the World unveiled the monument of David Lowery, a member of Virgilina Camp No. 102. He was a soldier in the world war and was killed in France in 1918. Hon. William Tuck of South Boston delivered the address, which was very impressive and appropriate for the occasion. Miss Hannah Newman recited the poem: "O why should the spirit of mortal be proud?" Misses Lucy Gregory, Florence Pennabaker, Mrs. Arthur Tuck and A. C. Bohannon, all members of the program. An unusually large number of people were in attendance.
Mrs. W. D. Annis assisted by Mrs. W. T. Harris was hostess to the Woman's Club at her home on Florence Avenue last Saturday afternoon. The home was beautifully decorated with pink and white roses, which made a very pretty setting of springtime. In the absence of the president, Mrs. R. R. Boyd presided. Each member responded to the roll call by giving a nature quotation appropriate to the season.
The question of the hour for discussion centered around the power of the pulpit and the press, and while all were agreed that the pulpit was an important factor of prime importance from a religious standpoint, it was decided that in view of the fact that more people came in contact with the pulpit of the press that it really wielded a greater influence than the pulpit.
A short while was devoted to the study of the life of Sarah Annea Pritchard, a native of Halifax county. Mrs. A. J. Tarrbrough read one of her poems: "The Modern Courtship," which was enjoyed very much. At the conclusion of the program, fairly and free, a large number of people were present. This meeting concluded one of the best years in the history of the club. The study of Southern writers has been pursued through the year, and has proven to be an unusually interesting study, as heretofore very little has been known of the writers of the beloved Southland.

MARTINSVILLE, May 23.—The Hotel Hiram last night was the scene of a rather interesting and unusual gathering. For several days the salesmen of the American Furniture company have been the guests of the hotel. For several days the conferences have been held in the offices of the company, and last night the activities of the men during the week culminated in a banquet tendered the representatives of the company in other cities by the local men here. The dinner was served in the hotel in a fine dining room, and the food was of a high standard. The men remained long into the night engaged in a delightful and profitable talk-fest. Local talent vied with Northern and Western in the display of their wares. A. D. Wilton, president of the American Furniture company, presided. Responses were made by all the out of town guests to the delight of the men gathered. The music furnished by the Piedmont Orchestra added much to the pleasure of the evening. The out-of-town guests were: M. D. Crippen of Rochester, N. Y.; H. R. Hanes of New York City; M. H. Hirsch of Philadelphia; Geo. Hufford of Baltimore; E. A. Koch, Cleveland, Ohio. These men handle thousands of dollars worth of furniture in branch stores, manufactured in the Martinsville plants, and the past months, being in sales during the year, were present at the banquet from the other factories.
DR. W. B. JETT TO BE MEMORIAL DAY ORATOR
Dr. W. B. Jett, of the First Methodist church of this city, has been chosen to deliver the Memorial Day address at the services to be held Friday May 30, by the Pannal Post of the American Legion. It is commendable of the men who fought in the great war, that they have always shown a disposition to keep green in their memory the deeds of the men of the sixties regardless of the side on which they fought.

A THOUGHT

Blessed are the merciful, for they shall obtain mercy.—Matt. 5:7-12.

Let us be merciful as well as just.—Longfellow.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 28, 1934

DISCRIMINATING

Americans need no longer mutely tolerate the criticism from their foreign visitors and observers that we are deplorably lacking in a sense for the finer values and in discrimination. In fact our neighbors abroad may regret having so persistently called to our attention our former national indiscrimination if our new-found discernment is the product of their well meant criticism.

That we, as a nation, are becoming religiously discerning first manifested itself in our outlook on the immigration question.

Once upon a time people who came across the seas to make their home in this country were roughly described as newcomers. Later they became refugees. Later they became immigrants. Later they became, in part, undesirable immigrants. Today they are, for the most part, impossible immigrants. Once upon a time it was with us half-fellow-well-met. Today we shouldn't dream of being introduced to a stranger before looking up his racial quota as of the year 1890.

And if this finer sense of discrimination should continue to grow among us, it is obvious that we cannot stop with the present still too rough differentiation between the Nordic and the Southern and South-eastern. The future of the American people will not really be safeguarded until the whole problem of immigration is put on a rigidly scientific basis by compass points. Separate quotas will have to be established, tapering down numerically from pure Nordics, through North-by-easterns, North-northeasterns, Northeast-by-Northerners, Northeasterns, Northeast-by-easterns, East-northerners, East-by-northerners, Easterners, etc.

THOSE HEATHEN JAPANESE

The politeness of the Japanese is proverbial. Politeness is a mark of high civilization. The Russian peasant is kind-hearted, but he is not polite. The word "polite" comes from the same Latin root as the word "polish." Politeness is polish. Rude, rough, uncultured people have no polish and no politeness.

Arguing backward, the American Congress was impotent to the Japanese nation in shutting its people out of America without regard for diplomatic form, the international code of manners. Therefore the American Congress is rough, rude and uncultured. Does it represent the American people?

The children of the northernmost town of the Japanese man island welcomed the American around-the-world visitors with "Atsuta" and "Hail Columbia" sung in English. The fishermen anchored here in the bay to guide the American guests.

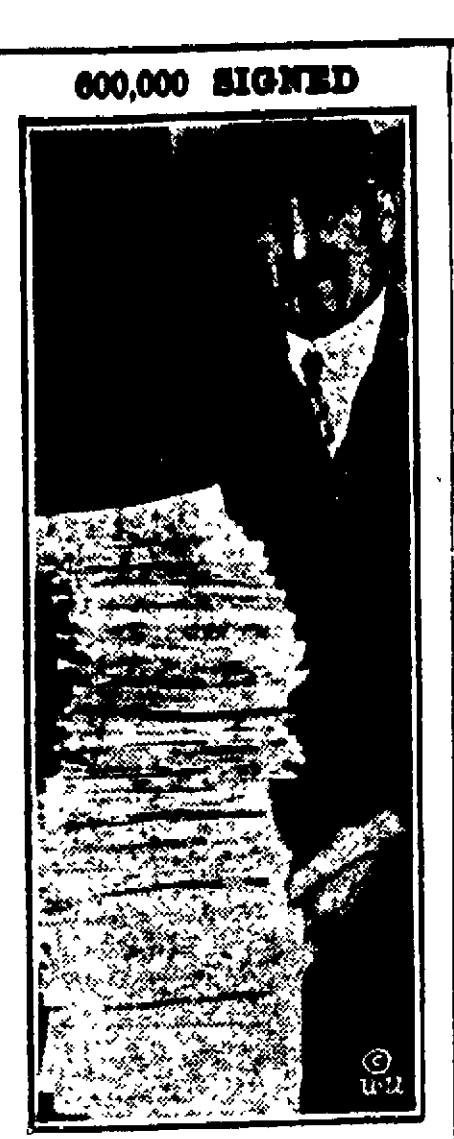

The here looked in vain for a sign reading "You can't land here, or 'No Americans wanted'."

It is hard for a Christian nation like America to understand the heathen Japanese.

GLASS AS VIRGINIA'S ONLY CHOICE

Norfolk Virginian Pilot Glass, the future of Senator Glass, is the only choice for the nation. The report that the McAdoo forces in this State have no thought of seeking an instructed delegation for their candidate and that they will not be heard at the convention next month in giving Senator Glass a unanimous endorsement. Such an attitude on the part of the McAdoo supporters is in conformity with the hands-off policy of the McAdoo forces in every State with a favorite senatorial candidate of its own. McAdoo has refused to fight Smith in New York, Ralston in Indiana or Underwood in Alabama. It is not to be expected, therefore, that he would fight Glass in Virginia.

But while the attitude of the McAdoo forces which are probably the Sixty thousand Illinois farmers, bankers, business and professional men signed this giant petition asking the passage of the McNary-Haugen farm credit bill. only group strong enough to contest renders a contest highly improbable. It will not be amiss for Democratic voters throughout the State to insist on a delegation to the national convention that will stick to Senator Glass through thick and thin. There should be no mere favorite son endorsement leading to a few complimentary votes in the early stages of the convention proceedings. Virginia needs to give Senator Glass the same undeviating support that was accorded him at San Francisco four years ago. The chances of nominating the Virginia Senator are admittedly far better than in 1920. He is everywhere recognized as one of the leading compromise candidates. In the event that neither Smith nor McAdoo can secure the two-thirds vote necessary to nominate Senator Glass will have a good chance to be chosen as any other possibility in the field. He is more acceptable to the McAdoo wing of the party than any other candidate, and he is also constructing enough to attract the more conservative elements now supporting Smith and Underwood. In the event of a deadlock he would have an unparalleled opportunity for winning support from the two leading factions of the party.

Senator Glass' position as a possible compromise candidate will be strong in any event, but it will be strengthened if Virginia votes for him with the same regularity as in 1920. When the Old Dominion stood by Glass through thirty ballots. Should the New York convention reach a deadlock on the leading candidates, the delegates will be more easily persuaded to throw their strength to Senator Glass if he has received the unfailing support of his own State than if he has been dropped after a single vote.

Scoop's Colyum

DRAKES BRANCH, May 21.—(Grapevine Wireless.)—We had a harmonious gathering of the untried Democracy of Danville last night, when the annual meeting was held to choose delegates to the State convention at Norfolk. On the important contents regarding the modus operandi of those present were secured, so there can be no question that the result represents a clear majority opinion of those present. While it was sought to inject irrelevant matter into the meeting, Chairman Carter promptly ruled it out and was sustained on an appeal from his denunciation. The merit of Judge Brown's proposal was recognized but it was not the time to take it up, as the meeting decided decisively.

After the June battle let's get all the Democrats together and make peace. An open air meeting, or all day picnic with dinner on the ground, would be the proper caper. This will afford an opportunity to iron out any differences and get together on general party policies.

Yes, Junius, there were several Goo Gooes present but their stiff collars soon wilted in the humidity of the Municipal Hall. A number of ladies attended the meeting and seemed to enjoy the performance, especially Col. Bill Mitchell's resolution on the unit rule and Luther Fair's familiarity with procedure. Brother Wilson stood in the office, but as the hour was late, he is publishing his statement on the opposite page of this paper today.

Chapter LXII
The Little God Satisfied

It was some time afterwards before she could make him "talk sensibly," as she called it, some time before she could make him tell her how he had found her, and all about young Evans.

"Poor Mr. Evans!" he said half sadly. "David, he was so good to me!"

"I know I suppose I ought to be glad, but I'm not. I think I'm jealous of everyone who speaks to you, Mary."

"You need not be," she told him shyly. "But if you could help him a little—I should like to help him a little, David."

"You shall do what you like, my queen!"

"David, does Mrs. Fisher know about—about me?"

She flushed up to her eyes meeting his. He kissed the hand he held. "Does she know that I love you, you mean?" he asked tenderly. "Well I should think she must guess that. I haven't exactly told her, but I have said, then: 'What are you thinking now?'"

"Only that—that I used to be jealous of her. She is so beautiful, and I—"

"You are the most beautiful woman in the world to me!"

And then—but after that even a bright-eyed blushing up in the face told her, and she knew that in the conversation, and flew away to look for something to eat.

And the only person who was not at all pleased with the arrangement at all pleased was David Fisher. He declared that David had been forced into marrying Mary, and persisted in alluding to him as "poor David."

until even Monty told her that she could not hide her eagerness of showing it to everybody.

This brought forth the usual burst of tears.

"How unkind you are! Nobody cares in the least how unhappy I am, or what becomes of me!"

But Monty had heard the same plaintive wail so many times that he got its pungency and he merely walked out of the room and shut the door rather forcibly.

That was on David's wedding-day. He and Mary were married very quietly in London with nobody to witness the ceremony but Miss Varney, who wept copiously the whole time because she was so glad, and a gray-haired old verger, who smiled and wished everybody "God luck!" half-a-dozen times over.

It was nearly the end of June then. "The most wonderful June in all the world," so Mary said, and she wished everyone could be as happy as I am."

Her thoughts went back to young Evans and David, and she wondered if it were very selfish of her to be so utterly happy and contented.

And then the picture of a lonely grave somewhere in France flitted through her mind, where lay all that was mortal of the man who had once loved, and for a moment a little shadow fell over her face.

Life was such a puzzle! It seemed hard to explain why he should be chosen, while she who had loved him best was here with David, and happier than she had ever been in all her life.

"What are you thinking about, sweetheart?" David asked her.

And she lifted her face to his, as she answered:

"Only how glad I am to be your wife!"

And David said—

Baker's Itch.

Most of the skin troubles located on the hands are due to occupation. One of the most frequent of the skin hand eruptions is Baker's Itch. If people could have itch in the stomach, and if they ate uncooked bread this would be a complaining world full of sorrow and tribulation. How could a man scratch the inside of his stomach and itch without scratching privileges in an unmitigated hardship.

A. C. Parsons made a study of the causes of this widespread malady. He found it was due to a very small insect in the flour, the mite, or rather the mite in the flour.

The largest single factor was uncleanliness in the bakery. There was very little of the trouble among men who worked in very clean bakeries. The best single measure of protection was the provision of very clean bakeries with more towels and better washing facilities. There should be wash basins, soap, water, and towels so conveniently placed and so attractive that the bakers would use them frequently during the work hours.

Perhaps the next most important item was the installation of more dough mixers. In a thoroughly modern bakery there is very little reason for keeping the hands in dough. Some people are sensitive to flour. They are poisoned by the fine particles of flour of the best grades. Some of these can work in bakeries when there are dough mixers. Some can get along all right if they will wear rubber gloves, while others will have to find other trades. The latter group are so easily poisoned that they cannot come in contact with flour without getting Baker's Itch or hives or asthma.

A few get Baker's Itch from handling baking powders. Most of these are all right when they wear rubber gloves or keep their hands out of the batch.

The best single remedy to apply to the irritated skin is calamine lotion. Some will not get well without taking a vacation or working at another trade for a while.

Since Baker's Itch is not easily contaminated after being produced, there is no danger to the consumer from Baker's Itch or any other trouble to which bakers are subject.

The question is of health interest only to bakers, masters and journeymen.

Children Need Fat.

L. A. writes:

1. It is advisable to feed children under 2 years of age with crisp fried bacon, or should the fat only be given with bread crumbs or fried in it?

2. A baby is naturally a light sleeper and is inclined to have an excitable temperament. It is wise to accustom it to become used to noise while it is sleeping.

3. I wish to have your opinion on this question, as I have often heard it debated. My contention is that in the case of a nervous child, it is better to have a nervous child, than to have a child who is not nervous.

Many people think that if a child is not nervous, it is a sign of a weak nervous system. I believe that a child who is not nervous is a sign of a strong nervous system.

4. It is. Nor is there any objection to giving bread and most of them stand well.

5. If you can train your nervous, light-sleeping baby to sleep through noise, do so. If you cannot, do not. Do not carry the effort to train him to sleep through noise very far.

HUDDLESTON WILL OPPOSE ADJOURNING

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, May 27.—Representative Huddleston, Democrat, Alabama, today served notice on the House that he would oppose adjournment in the event of failure of Congress to act on farm relief legislation and the Howell-Barkley bill to abolish the railroad labor board.

"Filibustering has succeeded," Mr. Huddleston said, "referring to the Howell-Barkley bill." "The discharge rule has proven a failure. It is not within the power of the House to legislate with a majority on the affirmative side. There is only one thing to do, that is, to continue to refuse to adjourn, and should demand action on these two measures."

The House leadership wants to leave this legislation in the air until after the election, the Alabama member charged, adding:

"We have it in our power to compel the leadership to afford us an opportunity for action, and I would fight to see the majority assert its right."

AFRAID SHE COULD NOT LIVE

Operation Advised, But Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made It Unnecessary

Glasgow, Kentucky. — "I was run-down, nervous with no appetite. My side had given me trouble for five or six years. At times it was all I could do to live, and the doctor said I couldn't live but a short time longer without an operation. That was two years ago. My sister-in-law recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. She had never used it herself, but she said one of her neighbors suffered just like I did, and it cured her. After I had taken four bottles the pain left my side. I had a fine appetite to eat anything that was put before me, and I began to do all my work and my washing, something I hadn't done for years. This was the first time I had been able to do my own housework, and this last fall I began suffering with my side again, so I began taking the Vegetable Compound again. I am on my fourth bottle, which makes eight in all I have taken. I feel so much better now I take it and everybody tells me I look better. My appetite improves and I feel stronger in every way. I am a very nervous woman and it seems to help my nerves so much. — Mrs. IAGGIE WALLER, Glasgow, Ky.

Powder Placed in Shoes Brings Quick Relief From Rheumatic Pain

"God Bless The Man Who Discovered The Healer," Writes Grateful User.

Thousands of former rheumatic sufferers are now praising Alessandro Volta, the well-known Italian physicist (for whom the electric volt was named) and his discovery which he has called Volta's salt—a scientific combination of certain ingredients which its discoverer has compounded into a fine powder. This powder is not taken internally, but is shaken into the shoes, from which it is intended to be absorbed into the blood stream through the myriad pores of the feet. This absorption is due, no doubt, to the fact that the feet contain 10 times as many pores as the square inch of the body. The secret of Volta's powder to relieve rheumatic pain so quickly is due to its tendency to eliminate excess uric acid which poisons the system (through the blood) and thus causes the distress of Rheumatism. The use of Volta's powder has demonstrated such astonishing results in literally thousands of cases, many of which were considered hopeless, that the American distributors have authorized local druggists to dispense Volta's rheumatic salt in this city with a guarantee to return the full purchase price on the first box in any case where the rheumatic pains are not wonderfully relieved. All who suffer from rheumatic pains, no matter how long-standing their cases may be, should take immediate advantage of this liberal offer. You can get Volta Powder from all good druggists everywhere.

Graduation Exercises of Local High School Last Night; 52 Students Receive Diplomas

Fifty-two graduates of the Danville High School last night received their diplomas and words of encouragement at the Commencement exercises which were held in the Majestic theatre before a thoroughly representative audience. The exercises were marked by a dynamic address on education by Dr. A. B. Chandler, president of the State Teachers' College at Fredericksburg, the customary salutatory and valedictory, singing by the High School Glee Club and the exchange of gifts, the latter being quite informal and following the dismissal of the audience. Superintendent of Schools W. C. Briggs presided with grace at the commencement.

The underlying motif of the exercises was the bond issue. It crept into the salutatory given by Miss Helen E. C. Cadwallader daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Cadwallader of 924 Grand street and the valedictory by Luther Dow Cooley of Sutherland, son of Mrs. W. G. Cooley, stressed the necessity of larger school facilities in Danville. Mrs. A. D. Keen, chairman of the school board who just prior to the distribution of the diplomas had been in the school building, felt in performing this task and at the same time made an earnest appeal for the bond issue in order that an equal start and a fair chance may be given every child in Danville. The speaker of the evening while studiously avoiding the bond issue, gave advice to what it should do in the bond issue devoted one portion of his address to showing what other Virginia communities have done and are doing through the bond issue method of improving and enlarging schools.

The fifty-two graduates who last night were awarded their diplomas are:

The exercises last night were opened by the Glee Club which sang two numbers. When the curtain on the stage next rose, the stage had been ranged with chairs and the grey cap and gown graduates filed in with the party of officials and others called upon to play a part in the night's exercises. Rev. Joseph D. Duglison, of the Presbyterian church, introduced the speaker, Dr. Chandler, and Superintendent Griggs after making the opening remarks introduced Miss Cadwallader as the salutatorian which was an outright appeal for support of the coming bond issue and the necessity of improving local conditions. Mr. Griggs then read a letter addressed to the citizens of Danville and written by William Lester, a Bellevue school fourth grade pupil in Miss Hubbard's room. This again appealed for bond issue support. Mr. Cooley in his valedictory pleaded for the maintenance of school day friendships, proper recognition of the teachers and appealed for better school conditions here.

Superintendent Griggs in introducing Sidney B. Hall, the retiring principal who in turn introduced the speaker commended the faculty of the high school for their contribution of heart, spirit and enthusiasm during the year's work. Mr. Hall was warmly eulogistic of Dr. Chandler and referred to him as a man who has devoted most of his life in the cause of education being a former member of the state board of examiners prior to his appointment as president of the Fredericksburg Normal or State Teachers College. It is now known. In addition, he said, Dr. Chandler is president of the Fredericksburg Rotary Club and president of the Chamber of Commerce.

Dr. Chandler who is a vigorous speaker discussed the modern spirit of education for more than an hour. His address was the main and important between the old standards of education with the new standards, the different viewpoints towards education which has been reached with progress and the present day realization that the future of the state of Virginia depends very materially upon the character of the education which it can give to its sons and daughters. The state of Virginia, he asserted is undertaking to provide an elementary and a high school education for all the children of all the people and while it is falling short of this ideal, progress is being made. If true Democracy be continued it is to live it is essential that we adhere to the task of educating all of the children and not only a percentage of them. The men and women who constitute a city are those who rise from the public schools and the degree of prosperity that comes to the young citizens will in the final analysis be determined by the amount and the kind of education provided them, thus preparing the motor for happy living and contributing citizenship.

Striking contrasts were made by Dr. Chandler between the early days of education and the present day. When the public school system was initiated in Virginia in 1870 the text book was considered as a thing sacred to be drilled into the mind of the pupil. Now, the speaker continued, the text book is but a means to an end, facts of the schoolbook are less essential than is the study of the child from many standpoints and the emphasis is placed on the pupil rather than on the subject matter to be taught. Similarly, Dr. Chandler said, the course of study was years ago predetermined and fixed whereas now it is elective and elastic, the student following a course of study which appeals to him. No cognizance was taken in the early days of the natural differences in children but a course of study was prepared as a menu in a eating house and served to one and all alike. Dr. Chandler then traced the changed aspect of the school work. The old theory was that the chief work of the school was to impart whereas such a doctrine holds only partially since so much is done by the present public school outside of the school building. Originally now is fostered and encouraged and the school pupil is not merely the recipient of a certain type of knowledge, encompassed by ironclad rules. Going a step further the speaker related that until comparatively speaking a few years ago a school teacher required no special preparation. Today

FELT "ALL GONE" IN HIS STOMACH

Wilkes-Barre Man Takes Paw Paw and Finds Way Back to Health

"For many years I suffered from what may be described as 'all-gone feeling' in the pit of the stomach," says Charles Taylor, 161 State St., Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

"My appetite was very poor; my strength and vitality were leaving me. Nothing seemed to help me, even though I had many prescriptions compounded as given to me by physicians of high medical standing.

"One day, while in the drug store, I talked with the gentleman who is exhibiting Paw Paw Tonic and giving health talks on disease caused to every one. I became interested and explained my case to him.

"He gave me a bottle of Paw Paw Tonic and take it according to directions. I gladly bought the Paw Paw because I was willing to try anything for relief. I faithfully took it for a little over a week and now report that my appetite is now first class.

"I have no trouble with my stomach or bowels. I feel, in fact, stronger in every way than I have. My vitality and general mental power have greatly increased, and I thank the Paw Paw Tonic for showing me a way to health."

This might just as well be your experience as that of Charles Taylor. Why don't you try Munsy's Paw Paw Tonic? It costs only $1 a bottle and you can get it at any first-class drug store. It is wonderful for indigestion, stomach troubles, loss of energy, sleeplessness, constipation, depressed feeling after eating, biliousness, nervousness and general run-down condition. Buy a bottle TODAY! "There's a Munsy's Paw Paw Tonic for Every Ill." Munsy's, Scranton, Pa.

State of Virginia, To-wit: City of Danville.

Personally appeared before me this 27th day of May, 1924, H. C. Ficklen, of Danville, Va., and made oath as follows: That by virtue of his right as a citizen of Virginia having access to records required by law to be open to inspection, he, on May 26th, 1924, examined the minutes of the meeting of the School Board of Danville, Va., held on May 17th, 1924, exhibited to him as such by the Clerk of said Board, and that said minutes disclosed that at said meeting the following members of said Board were present: Mrs. A. D. Keen, chairman, Dr. I. C. Harrison, vice, chairman, O. G. Fontress, H. E. Phillips, Mrs. Rucker Penn, J. H. Winkler, and A. C. Conway; and that the following is one excerpt, given verbatim, from said minutes:

"Mr. Phillips moved to appropriate a sum not to exceed $500.00 for the Publicity Committee to use in the campaign for school bonds. This was seconded by Mr. Winkler and carried."

H. C. FICKLEN.
Subscribed and sworn to before me this 27th day of May, 1924.
OTIS BRADLEY, Clerk Corp. Court, Danville, Va.

That a School Board should devote any funds, entrusted to its care from the taxes of the people for school purposes only, to run a campaign for a bond issue called for by the Council, when the Council itself can not appropriate money to such an end, (or to elect itself), is a plain violation of law; and it is an outrage that one body of taxpayers, differing from another in a purely fiscal matter, can be campaigned against, by their own money taken for a sacred purpose, in a campaign where many partisans traduce them as child-haters and opponents of education.

If the voters, in a broad size-up of the educational destinies of Danville, reason from managers and their knowledge to management, then they might wisely, after this hesitancy to accept the judgment of the Board (however good personally) in pending matters involving $500,000 (not for education or teachers but brick and mortar) and increased taxes laid upon real estate owners alone (and the trifling personality), while such predominating community wealth, as Cotton Mill stock is exempt.

Danville, Va., May 27th, 1924.

THOSE WHO HAVE LOST CONTROL OF LIMBS ARE OFFERED HOPE OF CURE

By OWEN L. SCOTT

(Copyright, 1924, by The Bee.)
World War Veterans who have lost control of their limbs as the result of brain injuries, children suffering from Little's disease and victims of certain types of palsy, are offered hope of cure through the recent discovery of a new method of treatment, according to Dr. John I. Hunter, a young Australian physician, news of which has just been brought back to America by Dr. William J. Mayo, the eminent American surgeon. Mr. Mayo's personal talk with Dr. Hunter, who is now in the United States, describes the Hunter method and tells of Dr. Mayo's plans to introduce it in the United States. Later, Dr. Mayo will deal with other discoveries brought back by Dr. Mayo.

ROCHESTER, Minn., May 23.—Relief for sufferers from Little's disease, spastic paraplegia and some obscure Parkinsonian syndromes—ailments arising from inability to control muscular activity—is in sight from the Mayo clinic here.

Dr. William J. Mayo, renowned surgeon, has set a corps of research specialists to work testing the findings of a young Australian physician, who holds out hope for thousands suffering from certain types of palsy. Many world-famous patients, through loss of control of their limbs, through restricted muscle activity due to Little's disease, and persons with Parkinsonian syndromes, are now being treated by the Mayo method, which promises relief should the present confirmation of research show the discovery to be effective.

Visiting Australia recently, Dr. Mayo became acquainted with the work of Dr. John I. Hunter, a new University of Sydney scientific research. This 26-year-old doctor had worked out a new theory of muscle control which pointed to a cure for muscle diseases.

The noted American surgeon became interested in Dr. Hunter's findings, as well as other medical investigations of marked importance that came among the Antipodes, where he found among the Antipodes, a report of which he has just brought back to this country. Dr. Mayo noted that in the youngest of Anglo-Saxons and in the young of Anglo-Saxons, New Zealand have been made in two most noteworthy discoveries: medical science of the past few years, as a remedy for diabetes, by Dr. Banting of Canada, and now Dr. Hunter's possible cure of muscle ailments by Dr. Hunter.

To make his findings, Dr. Hunter had a problem in nerve control to solve, involving the control by the individual of his energy. Attention was called by Dr. Mayo, in his address before the American College of Surgeons in Chicago, October 23, 1923, to the fact that 75 per cent. of a person's energy is used for the functions of the body over which the individual has no control—so-called vegetative functions—and that only 25 per cent. of a person's energy can be directed by himself through the nervous system. This 25 per cent. control has been gained since control has been developed a brain to supplement unconscious functions.

As mentality became stronger, the senses of taste, smell, hearing, sight developed, and with their development came a connection between mentality, or the conscious nervous system, and the vegetative functions, or unconscious nervous system, which has been outside man's control. Through this nerve connection, the brain and spinal cord to the internal organs, through sympathetic nervous system, people sometimes develop functional disorders which often mimic symptoms of organic disease, and hereditary and quackeries. They are introduced and perform what the affected people believe are cures, thereby gaining credence of others.

It had always been supposed that messages on the human telephone system ran only from the conscious cerebra-spinal system to the unconscious sympathetic nervous system. Scientists did not consider that this telephone plan worked both ways, that muscles under conscious control not only received messages from the conscious mind, but also received and distributed impulses from the unconscious nervous system.

Now comes Dr. Hunter, who has found that every muscular muscle fiber is connected with the sympathetic nervous system, as well as with the cerebrospinal system, and that muscular tone depends upon this fact. Previously it was believed that the voluntary movement of muscles that direct human activity was not closely concerned with the sympathetic nervous system. Under certain conditions, not well understood, this muscle tone or massaging would work irregularly, as in Little's disease, spastic paraplegia and Parkinsonian syndromes. This irregularity was the cause of much of the disability, according to Dr. Hunter's theory.

Dr. Hunter, working with Dr. Royle, the orthopedic surgeon, came to the conclusion that if they could cut these communicating nerves between the cerebrospinal and the sympathetic systems, the operation would have some effect in stopping the jerking of muscles. Experiments on goats were successful and have been followed by forty or fifty operations on persons with various kinds of muscular disturbances, with favorable results in many cases. Previous attempts to remedy the ailments due to inability to control muscular activity had largely failed.

Dr. Mayo is convinced that this work must be considered of great importance; that nerve specialists, orthopedic surgeons, pathologists, and other specialists must test the findings of Dr. Hunter. It is being planned to bring the Australian doctor and Dr. Royle to the United States later in the year so that they may demonstrate their work to the American College of Surgeons.

This new line of research, involving a new inquiry into the way of nerves, their influence and control, may explain a good many things. However, the hands of the clock cannot be set back, a way must be provided for the rebuilding of misshapen bones, joints and muscles deformed by chronic muscle diseases.

Whatever the ultimate result of the operations now being tested in a thorough-going and effective manner, the discovery is considered a great contribution to physiological knowledge. While it may not be hoped for by those suffering from muscle disease, it is probably that much may be done to relieve these unfortunate persons in the future through the work of these investigators.

BREWER OFFERS RESIGNATION.

(By The Associated Press.)
NEWPORT NEWS, Va., May 27.—Captain Wesley H. Brewer, for the past fifteen years connected with the National Soldiers home, has tendered his resignation to Col. L. A. Thompson, the governor and the board of managers as chief of the commissary, subsistence department.

DAILY PUZZLE

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9

Arrange the nine digits in any order, insert multiplication or addition signs among them, and make them total exactly 100.
No fractions may be used; nor may any two figures be combined to form a number, like 43, 41, etc.

Yesterday's answer:
The small balls weigh 2 1/2 pounds each, the medium balls, 7 1/2 pounds each; the large balls, 15 pounds each.
The problem is solved as follows: take the two bottom shelves, and eliminate six balls from each. This leaves two large balls, equal in weight to four medium balls, therefore one large ball weighs twice as much as a medium ball.

Take the two top rows, the two large balls in the second row are eliminated by a large and two medium balls. Three small balls of the second row eliminate the three small balls of the top row. Thus there remains a middle-sized ball in the top row, equal to three small balls in the second row. Thus a middle-sized ball equals three small ones; a large ball equals six small ones. Each row contains the equivalent of 18 small balls, each row weighs 45 pounds, and 45 divided by 18 gives 2 1/2 pounds as the weight of each small ball.

Now comes Dr. Hunter, who has found that every muscular muscle fiber is connected with the sympathetic nervous system, as well as with the cerebrospinal system, and that muscular tone depends upon this fact. Previously it was believed that the voluntary movement of muscles that

Many "Leaders" In Honduras

General Vicente Tosta, second in command to General Ferrera of the rebel forces in Honduras.

General Francisco Ferrera, one of the leading chiefs of the revolutionary force in Honduras.

BY BOB DORMAN

(Copyright, 1924, by NEA Service.)
TONGTONTIN, Honduras, May 28.—History shows that on an average, one really great man in born in a century.

The trouble with Honduras is that there are at least seven or eight men at the present time, each of whom is firmly convinced that he is the man. Which wouldn't be so bad if it weren't for the fact that each seems able to convince a certain portion of his countrymen that he is right.

The adherent of each party wears a colored hat band to designate his particular brand; generally it bears a printed inscription "Viva-ing" his favorite candidate.

The result is a medley of colors and names—reds, blues, red and blue, red and white, etc.—together with Carlas, Arias, Bonilla, Ferrera, and Ferrera.

Just at present the warring factions are the reds and the blues.

The reds carry a red and white banner. The blues—blue and white one, except the followers of Ferrera, the best fighters of the blues—no carry a red and white banner also, as Ferrera used to be a red.

The causes of the revolution are many.

Hidden behind the verbal barrage of high-sounding phrases are the real reasons—personal ambition and foreign intrigue.

And still behind this are the men who are really patriotic, really honest—who are seeking to establish an honest government in their country.

But they are sadly in the minority.

The government of Gutierrez, which expired Jan. 31, 1924, was a revolutionary government.

It had overthrown a government that had endeavored to make itself the private property of one family.

General Ferrera had been one of its foremost leaders.

For a time the government of Gutierrez was honest.

Then the usual grafting of the Central American governments found its way into being.

The country sank deeper and deeper into debt, though its revenues were never before so large.

The soldiers of the government invaded the homes of the people, violating the women and taking what they desired.

Men like Ferrera, who had been rewarded with the post of collector of customs at the important port of Ceiba, finding protests vain, resigned from the government.

But these indications of a coming storm went unheeded by the politicians in office.

Last October saw the holding of the presidential elections.

The two major parties, the Liberals (in office) and the Conservatives, placed their candidates in the field.

Tiburcio Carias was the candidate of the Conservatives.

Manuel Arias of the Liberals. In order to split the vote of the Conservatives, the Liberals placed a third candidate in the field, Policarpo Bonilla.

In the resulting election, Carias had more votes than any other candidate, but not a majority.

This despite the padded voting such as occurred at Puerto Cortez, where 87 Arias voted the entire electoral vote of the town, to the number of 1256.

The constitution of Honduras requires a majority.

Gutierrez declared "No election." Then he proclaimed himself dictator.

Followed the revolution.

BIG TAX SUIT IS STARTED BY GOV'T

(By The Associated Press.)

ATLANTA, May 27.—The suit filed by the government here today against the Coca Cola Company for $6,833,469.62 for alleged unpaid income and excess profits taxes in 1919 and penalties is directed at the old Georgia corporation and in no way involves the corporation that now is being operated, according to statements from company officials.

The present company was chartered under the laws of Delaware.

A formal statement was issued by Charles H. Candier, president of the Coca Cola Company, a Georgia corporation as follows:

"My attention has been called to the suit filed by the United States government against the Coca Cola Company, the Georgia corporation due to additional tax assessment for the year 1919, which was based upon the assets of the corporation.

"At the outset, it is only fair to say that this suit can in no way involve the Coca Cola Company, the Delaware corporation, which corporation is now being operated and selling the product Coca Cola.

"The Delaware corporation was a purchaser for value of the entire assets of the Georgia corporation.

Your Own Home vs. Rent Receipts

MOST of us have been paying good money for the purpose of having a roof over our heads—and have nothing but rent receipts to show for it!

Do you realize that in about ten cycles of the earth around the sun you have paid enough to have a home for yourself?

Let's tell you how it can be done. Just a small payment at the start and a moderate sum each month—practically no more and sometimes less than you're giving the landlord now. We shall be pleased to discuss this problem with you.

The Mutual Building and Loan Association offers you this plan, combining convenience and safety.

Stock in the Association is sold on weekly, or monthly payments. 25 cents per share per week matures $100.00 in about 6 1-3 years; $2.50 per week matures $1,000.00, etc., etc.

Loans are made to members of the Association to buy, build, or remodel homes. The weekly payments cancel the loan when the stock is paid up.

We combine systematic saving with real estate investments. The straight road to independence.

Your money stays in Danville and works for you.

As a savings plan your money earns 6 1/2 per cent. per annum, free of tax. Join with us and help "carry on" the good work.

DISAGREE ON SPEED OF RADIO

From both ends of the United States come sounds of a clash over the speed of the radio wave.

It started with the announcement from San Francisco that radio waves are slower than light waves. It was made by Captain T. J. J. See, professor of mathematics in the U. S. navy, government astronomer at the Mare Island navy yard and authority on the ether theory.

Almost immediately comes the denial by John V. L. Hogan, one of the foremost radio authorities in the country. From his office in New York he sends out the declaration that to think of radio waves traveling at a lower speed than that of light is absurd.

Captain See concluded that the speed of radio was 165,000 miles a second after he had conducted some positive tests.

But, says Hogan, "the speed of light was determined accurately by several scientific investigators many years ago, and the speed of longer electro-magnetic waves, in which category the radio waves fall, has been conceded by leading authorities to be the same. In fact, light waves are generally understood to be nothing more nor less than exceedingly high-frequency electrical vibrations in space, and all electro-magnetic waves, whether of high or low frequency, have been shown by analysis and experiment to have the same speed."

CHILD ENDS LIFE BECAUSE OF CRITICISM OF PANCAKES

(Copyright, 1934, Chicago Tribune.)
 WAUKESHA, Wis., May 26.—Jennie Heironomous, 15-year-old daughter of a farmer near Volo, made some pancakes for the family breakfast Saturday. It was her first attempt to make flapjacks. Tomorrow she will be buried, a suicide. The pancakes were not a glittering success and her father admits he made some joking remarks about them. Jennie was broken-hearted over her failure and the god-natured criticism and fled to her room in tears. Members of his family did not attach much importance to the event, believing that after she had cried a while she would forget the incident. Instead she swallowed poison and was dead when, worried by her long absence, some one went to call her.

—Saves Three Ways

You save when you buy it

Calumet Baking Powder is sold at a moderate price—a just price. It costs much less than the high priced brands. And but very little more than the "big can" kinds that can never be depended on. When you pay more than is asked for Calumet, you are squandering money.

When you buy cheap powders, you do save a few pennies on the cost, but poor baking powder is the most expensive in the long run because it spoils and wastes many dollars worth of baking ingredients.

Calumet has been on the market for 30 years. Its sales are 2½ times as much as that of any other brand. It is used by more housewives, more chefs and Domestic Scientists because experience has proved it productive of best results.

Made in the world's largest, finest, most sanitary Baking Powder factories.

You save when you use it

Calumet has more than the ordinary leavening strength—therefore you use less.

It begins to raise bakings the instant they are put into the oven.

Calumet is sure. It never fails. Cakes, biscuits, every baking in which Calumet is used, comes from the oven just right—light, tender, perfectly raised and thoroughly wholesome.

Look Out For This

A pound can of Calumet contains full 16 ounces. Some baking powders come in 12 ounce instead of 16 ounce cans. Be sure you get a pound when you want it.

You save materials it is used with

The unfailing strength of Calumet guarantees perfect results—every bake day.

There are no failures—no waste. The eggs, butter, flour, sugar and other baking ingredients that cost you so much money these days are always converted into the most delicious and economical baking.

Calumet bakings are never thrown away. Not a slice of cake, a crumb of biscuit nor anything else baked with Calumet ever spoils or dries out. They are too good to last—and are good to the last as they stay moist, fresh and tender.

Calumet is one of the greatest savers of food—one of the most effective means of keeping down the high cost of foods—without sacrificing food quality.

Try it today.

CUBS' DEFEAT GIVES GIANTS MORE LEAD

NEW YORK, May 28.—The Giants are half a game further ahead of the Cubs today. They owe it partly to the weather, because rain kept them idle yesterday while the Chicago National outfit was getting trimmed by the Pirates in a ten-inning battle, 5 to 4.

Chicago tied the score in the ninth with two run rally off Kremer. He retired in favor of Morrison, who blanked the Cubs for the remaining one and two-thirds innings.

The league trailing Phillies sank still lower when Boston captured both sides of a double header, 5 to 4, and 10 to 6. In the first game the Phillies made a desperate stab at victory in the eighth with a 3 run rally which tied the score. The ninth was on both sides in a squeeze in the bottom of the tenth with two out. In the second game the Braves held the lead throughout.

ALL READY FOR BIG MOTOR RACE FRIDAY

By C. F. HARROLD
(Copyright, 1934, by The Bee)

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 28.—When the pigmy motored, trail-looking little automobiles line up Friday morning for the fifteenth Indianapolis Motor Speedway Olympic, it will be a far cry to the start of the classic in 1911 when Ray Harroun drove his big Marmon to victory at the astounding rate of seventy four miles an hour. All of the 82 entrants in the race this year must pass a qualifying test of 80 miles an hour and already some have shown a speed of 108 miles an hour in practice runs.

The development of motordom is told at the speed way. Harroun's lumbering old racer bore an engine with six hundred cubic inches of piston displacement. If the tiny little speedsters then now have been cut down to less than flyover size, with 122 cubic inches of piston displacement. Last year Tommy Milton, twice winner of the classic, broke all speedway records by sending his car to victory at the average rate of 96.95 miles an hour.

Henry Ford, who took a turn at the racing game himself back in 1903 will be the referee, and three of his products—75 per cent., pure Ford—will be in the race under the name of Marmon-Warneck Specials. It will be a contest of specialists, with Duessenberg, Durango, and Deming-Kearney, one Hoosier, two Kearsleys, six Millers, one Roof, one Mourne, one Sinclair, one Schmidt, one Wade, one Wells-Hornet, and two unnamed entrants making up the list. Many veteran pilots again will undertake the grueling mile drive, among them being Cliff Durant, the millionaire sportsman, Eddie Kearney, Pete De Paolo, L. L. Corum, Harry Miller, Benny Hill, Tom Alley, Ira Vall, Earl Cooper and Jimmy Murphy and Tommy Milton, both former speedway kings. But the foreigner speedway kings are pulling out for the Americans in years gone by, will not be present this year. Not a single European entrant—unless the rebuilt Schmidt could be called one—has been entered. It is purely an American contest this year for the first time in the history of the track. Ralph De Palma, who hung up the track record in 1915 and who twice had victory within his grasp in other years, is said to be in the running this year, having been placed in the outlay list. Howdy Wilcox, an Indianapolis favorite and winner in 1919, will be missed, having died at the Cincinnati and St. Louis split a double header, the Reds losing the first 4 to 3, and winning the second 3 to 1. Cooney's double with Gonzalez on second gave the Cardinals the winning run in the opener after the Reds had tied the score with a three run rally in the same frame. In the second game Cincinnati led all the way.

In the American League George Uhle outpitched three Chicago twirlers and won, 3 to 1. In Detroit, Bert Cole won his first game of the season by holding St. Louis to three scattered hits until the ninth and winning, 5 to 4, there by easing the Browns out of the third place.

Brocklyn was idle with the Giants in New York, while in the American rain kept the Yankees and Senators and the Red Sox and Athletics in their quarters.

Approximately $100,000 in prizes will be distributed among the drivers. The winner will take $20,000, and the runner up will receive $10,000 for second place to $1,400, for tenth position. In addition, Indianapolis merchants have put up $10,000 which will be distributed $100 at a time to the winner of each lap. It is possible for one driver to set out ahead and win all of the lap prizes money as well as the first prize. In addition thousands of dollars worth of special prizes are donated by accessory concerns and $10,000 is divided among the pilots who do not finish.

In every race for the last two years the crowd has been brought to its feet by a daring rabbit that has darted down the home stretch among the roaring motors.

Gibbons Starts "Tapering Off" Process Today

(By The Associated Press.)
MICHIGAN CITY, Ind., May 28.—Tommy Gibbons, St. Paul lightweight, today started the tapering off process, for his last round contest with Georges Carpentier here next Saturday afternoon, while his French opponent, is satisfied that he is conditioned to the minute, planned to loaf, taking his final workout tomorrow.

Carpentier, working like an athlete superbly conditioned and ready for battle, engaged in a lively workout for the benefit of the newspaper correspondents yesterday, boxing five rounds in addition to four rounds of gymnasium exercises. His showing was astonishing and left no doubt that he is on edge.

The Frenchman, looking bigger and more robust than on his first American appearance in 1921, performed with all his grace and skill, making his sparring partners miss by a fraction of an inch and timing his blows like a sharp shooter.

After his workout, he vaulted over the top rope of the ring and trotted down the gravelled road whistling and waving to the gaily dressed women who shouted "good luck" to him.

Both Carpentier and Gibbons were muffled with headgears to protect their eyes and ears from rasping punches.

Gibbons is working methodically and plans to continue boxing probably until Friday afternoon. He boxed four opponents yesterday, taking them on for two rounds a piece, but his only real workout was with Tillie "Kid" Herman, an aggressive 145 pounder.

Gibbons gave the impression in his boxing with Herman that he intends to fight Carpentier at close range.

For a boxing contest without any title involved, the Saturday event promises to be a gate of $30,000, according to advance sale of tickets. All the 520 seats, the choicest in the arena, have been sold.

Carpentier will receive $70,000, including $5,000 for expenses, while Gibbons will get 30 per cent. of the receipts.

Glass Described as In Receptive Mood
PHILADELPHIA, May 28.—Cartier Glass, United States senator from Virginia, and formerly secretary of the treasury, gave the impression yesterday that he is in a decidedly receptive mood for the Democratic presidential nomination. In an address before the Democratic women's luncheon club in the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel, he declared that he was not a "platform" man, but a "platform" man, and that he was not a "platform" man, but a "platform" man.

Senator Glass behaved much after the manner of a full-fledged candidate. At one stage of his address, when he made a slighting reference to his home, a considerable portion of the diners arose and cheered him roundly. The senator made no attempt to quell this demonstration. In fact, he appeared pleased with the outburst.

Considerable interest was attached to the speech of the senator in view of the fact that reports from New York indicate he is being favorably considered as the second choice of the McGowan boomers. Before taking the platform, Mr. Glass declared he is a McGowan supporter, and predicted his predecessor in the treasury department would land the nomination.

FREE SWIMMING CLASSES OPEN AT Y. ON MONDAY

Active steps are being taken for the opening for the summer season of Camp Ro-li-Ki which this year is prepared to serve the youth of the community on a larger scale than at any time since its establishment. The date of the opening has been definitely fixed for June 6th. Work will start next Monday on the new screened mesh-hall measuring 18 feet by 12 feet and which will be ready for use by the time the camp opens. The concrete to place across the dam, which impounds water in the swimming pool has been nearly finished and will greatly strengthen the barrier.

Jack Whittington said this morning that there are 4,500 boys in Danville eligible for vacations in the camp during the ten day periods and that applications should be made promptly. The plan is to have sixty boys at a time in camp for ten day periods during which time a regular camp routine will be followed. In order to afford the greatest safeguards six well trained men will be constantly at camp. Jack Whittington will be in full charge. M. L. Skaggs will live at the camp during the summer and be athletic director. Louis Berman has been designated tent and cot inspector. William Doonan will be drill master. Frank Murrell commissary steward and Dr. P. W. Miles camp physician.

J. N. Moore, Inc. Makes Assignment

J. N. Moore, Inc., men's clothing with quarters in the Masonic Temple, made an assignment today for the benefit of its creditors, papers being filed in the office of the clerk of the Corporation court. The total indebtedness is estimated at between $23,000 and $24,000 while the assets consist of the stock in trade fixtures. Just what the assets amount to, will not be known until the inventory has been taken. The doors were closed this morning and attaches of the store were taking inventory.

Wayles R. Harrison and Grasty Crews have been appointed trustees, and will wind up the affairs of the corporation. It is doubtful if the stockholders will recover more than ten cents on the dollar, it was learned this morning. The company was organized in the Fall of 1921 with a paid-in capital of $20,000. J. L. Jennings being president and J. N. Moore was manager of the concern until last February when his withdrawal was announced. J. N. Robertson has since been manager of the store but in responsible quarters it was stated that the course taken in making the deed of assignment did not reflect upon his ability. The situation was produced it was said, rather by a deficit economic condition which is being felt here as in other places with more or less severity. The concern occupies a lower floor store in the Temple and has been paying a rent of $270 a month. The Masonic Building Corporation holds a lien on rent for the next six months, this aggregate amount not being included in the estimated indebtedness.

A petition filed in the federal court yesterday by Leigh and Crews, seeking adjudication of the concern as bankrupt, was withdrawn this morning and no federal process is now anticipated.

FTER he had fled out three times and grounded out once, that fellow Townsend came up in the eleventh and made up for it all. His four-baser with the bases jammed brought to an abrupt end one of the closest battles of the season. It had been a struggle by both sides for ten innings. The score had stood three all, and that was all.

Bob had been effective or lucky in the pinches. Not a few times was he plodding along and keeping his pen busy writing correspondence trying to locate "a better player." He announced this morning that he has a new outfielder in view whom he expects to sign in a day or two. Herb also is keeping his eyes open for other new men.

But plugging holes after the fourteen player limit has arrived is no easy task. Baseball rules say that a player can only be suspended on account of illness or an injury. Therefore when a new man is signed, he cannot be held and be given tryouts and the other man still be retained. Somebody must be dropped from the roster. Just whose place the new outer gardener will take has not been intimated.

Despite this, Herb C. Murphy, always working to give fans his best is plodding along and keeping his pen busy writing correspondence trying to locate "a better player." He announced this morning that he has a new outfielder in view whom he expects to sign in a day or two. Herb also is keeping his eyes open for other new men.

McDonald is showing considerable improvement since he was put into the game. It is learned that Mac had been out of the game for several weeks before playing here. He was nursing a "charley horse" which has about healed now. McDonald is known to be a heady player and slings a mean throw when he does get started. That he has gotten started was demonstrated in the past two days. On Monday he got three safeties out of four attempts and yesterday he hit .500, getting two out of four. And he is covering his post in the field like a star. Now he is in form again. Just watch him, is what those who know him are saying.

Manager Murphy has recovered from his illness and will be back in to the game at his position in the shortfield today. This no doubt will add the new strength and confidence to the team. Murphy's presence has a steady effect on the boys. Regan will go back to center and McDonald to right.

Considering the weakened team, Danville has made a fine showing in the past two days and with Murphy back today, a different story may be told, of course, if the pitching is any good.

Owner Murphy is making preparations for the pennant raising tomorrow afternoon, when Greensboro comes here for a three game series. Mr. Murphy plans to have a citizen to make a brief talk and possibly the band if he can arrange it. With pretty weather in prospect one of the largest crowds of the season is expected to be on hand to witness the ceremonies. The occasion certainly deserves a big crowd for it will be the first pennant Danville will have seen raised since in the old Virginia League when Danville won the rag some ten years ago.

Federal Reserve Banks May Have Disastrous Year

(By The Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, May 27.—Federal reserve board statistics made public today disclose that the effect of the downward trend of business has been strongly felt by the federal reserve banks and on the basis of present calculations they may end this year with the lowest net earnings in seven years.

The business recession, apparent since the beginning of the year, continued through April and early May and forced earnings assets of the twelve reserve banks down to $795,000,000 on May 21, the lowest since the fall of 1917. This figure compares with earnings assets of $1,177,000,000 on the same date last year and indicates clearly, in the opinion of officials that the net earnings of 12 banks will drop well below the $12,711,000 figure for 1923.

Board's Review.

The board's review of business for April and May showed a further decline in factory employment and production of basic commodities and coupled with this, a sharp decrease in borrowing for commercial purposes.

With indications that the small demand for reserve bank redemptions will continue, the earnings assets of the banks, it was said, probably will drop even to new low levels.

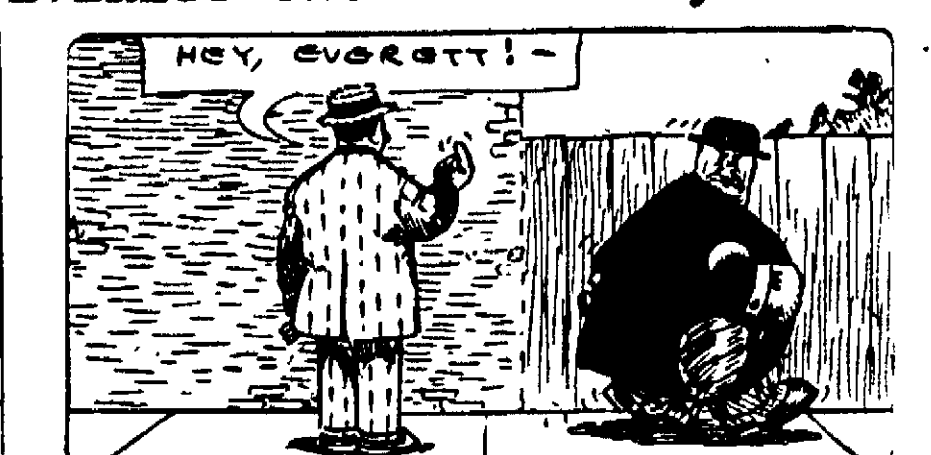

There was an easier money market, generally in the two months covered by the board's summary and this was reflected in a further rise in the prices of government securities in reduction from four and one-half to four and one-quarter per cent in prime commercial paper, and a decline from four to three per cent in the rate on bankers' acceptances.

Lack of demand for goods was shown in the reduction of wholesale prices which in April touched the lowest point since 1922 and were about one per cent lower on the average than in March.

Building construction showed a strengthening with higher values in March and in April than a year ago, but the value of building permits, on the other hand, declined sharply, with the total lower than on corresponding dates last year.

The drop in reserve bank earnings developed some discussion among reserve board officials, who declared

Playing Wheeler's Hobby

WASHINGTON, May 28.—Burton K. Wheeler, sturdy senator from Montana, has five pet hobbies—

Edward, Richard, Frances, Elizabeth and John.

They're the Wheeler kids—or, as the neighborhood around the famous Chevy Chase Golf Club refers to them, "the senator's tribe."

Wheeler has worn an automobile tire path between his home and his work. For when he isn't in the Senate office building or the capitol, he is home with his wife and youngsters.

He gives his own car and whenever it's a pleasure trip, the tribe is with him. And there usually is a battle to see who sits up in front with dad.

The senator still believes that baseball is the national game—not golf. And he plays baseball too. At least one angle of it—catch, with his boys.

The two oldest Wheeler boys, John and Edward, 14 and 12 get up at 6 every morning and carry paper routes. They work while their father sleeps.

The senator admits he likes to snooze in the morning. He also admits he likes to turn in fairly early, when work doesn't interfere, and get a good night's rest.

Traveling around the clock with Wheeler, we would find him at his Senate office around 8:30 a. m. in the Senate when it convenes, down in the Senate lunch room for a bite at noon, back in the Senate and in his office in the afternoon, and at home in the evening.

His favorite outdoor sports are playing with the children and motor-boating.

He isn't a bit picky about food, but he kinda prefers Boston clim in factory employment and production of basic commodities and coupled with this, a sharp decrease in borrowing for commercial purposes.

The drop in reserve bank earnings developed some discussion among reserve board officials, who declared that even now some of the reserve banks are not making money.

Should the earnings assets of the reserve banks continue to fall, it was said, the banks would gain less than $9,578,607, which was their net profit in 1917.

Implicating a third man, known only to police as "Dago Tony," Nick Guido broke down under intensive police grilling and said the robbery, which ended in murder, was planned by his 28-year-old sweetheart, Mrs. Margaret Marks, wife of a taxi chauffeur who lived in Burks' rooming house.

Guido said he met Mrs. Marks, who has been under arrest with her husband, Mary Marks, since the day of the murder, following a flirtation which started in the morals court. She invited him to take her to a show and later asked him to accompany her to her home, he said. After several visits, Guido said Mrs. Marks suggested robbery as a means of securing funds for a trip. Guido said he agreed to get two friends if Mrs. Marks would watch Burks closely and tip them off when the proper time arrived.

The night of the murder, Guido said he acted as lookout while Damico and "Dago Tony" went into the home. Damico admitted that he held Burks' arms while accomplice twisted a curtain around his head. They did not know of the murder until the day after both declared.

Working in conjunction with Captain William Peters of the Hudson avenue station, Lieut. Alex Jensen's squad assisted in tracing a check stolen from Burks. It was through this check that both Guido and his companion were caught.

Mrs. Marks confronted with both men, following their confession, denied that she had been implicated in the murder. She knew Guido she said but denied that she had ever suggested robbery to him.

Everyman's Investments

By GEORGE T. HUGHES

Twenty-third Article
Customer Ownership.

One of the most encouraging developments of the times in the investment business is the spread of the customer ownership idea. So far this new plan has been confined to the public utilities, principally the electric light and power and the gas companies. It used to be the custom when a public utility needed new capital, and they are continually in need of new capital, for the officers to go to the bankers and sell securities. Stock if possible and bonds if necessary. This financing, however, was done in the great centers such as Wall Street street where new capital is to be had. The people who bought the stock had no voice in the management of the utility. The new idea is to go direct to the utility's customers when new money is needed. Of course, it cannot all be raised this way, but even the largest part can be. But enough of the theory. The plan has been abundantly proved to give the customers of the utility a direct and personal interest in its welfare. For the most part the securities sold have been in the form of preferred stock and generally the salesmen have been the employees of the company. From the corporation's standpoint the plan has proved a success not only in developing a new source of capital but in cultivating a spirit of good-will in the community which was a very real intangible value. From the standpoint of the customer owner the plan has proved beneficial in that it has been able to obtain a sound security with reasonable return and one with the progress of which he is able to keep in close touch. The amount of money, which can be raised in this way is far beyond that which could be made by those who first suggested the plan. It has also resulted in keeping for the community the capital which might otherwise have been dissipated in buying fraudulent promotion stocks. It has met the criticism that opportunities for the safe investment of small sums have been lacking because it was too expensive for investment bankers to cater to the investor who had only one hundred dollars spare capital. The public utility can well afford this expense in return for the co-operation they secure from their customers.
